Greeting Ladies

WAW has been and gone, as I write this months President's Thread. I am sure every body who did a class, visited the Merchants Mall, had a fabulous time. Thank you to the WAW Committee for running a successful event.

Ladies please remember to wear our NAME Badges, to guild meetings, stitch n chat and events, it should be part of your embroidery tools (Hussif), as it is so much easier for members, new members and visitors alike to be able to see who you are.

Your suggestions are welcome, to be e-mailed to nelson.embroideres@gmail.com, or posted to P O Box 16, Nelson 7040, on ways you wish to manage the monies we received from the 2018 Conference. Once we have these we will bring all suggestions back to the Guild, and we will discuss them further, they will then be voted on in a secret ballot.

Christmas is fast approaching, so is our Christmas Decorations Day, we are needing items for the raffles, so could you please remember to bring a Green, Red or Gold item to the October meeting. Thank you. Also we need more of the Christmas Decorations for the Cathedral Tree, the Scandinavian Red on White or White on Red squares, these need to be given to Christine Weldon by the 16th November 2019.

Do not forget Carol Barker's Mini Workshop on the 5th October at Broadgreen, a little Rubbish Thread Catcher. Have you eaten your Pringles as yet?

In October from Friday 18th – Sunday 20th another wonderful weekend is about to commence, Marahau. Yipee a time to Stitch all your PHD's (projects half done), enjoy moments with your fellow members etc. If you have not been to one of these be sure to join us, either for the weekend ($40.00) or just the day ($10.00) on Saturday the 19th October.

At our next meeting on the 9th October, Gail Collingwood will be doing a talk about her Iron Collection, be sure to be there if you want to listen to it.

Keep hold of that Needle!
Christine W

Library News

I hope everyone had a great WAW weekend. If you are needing further inspiration etc the library has a great List of books covering the different styles covered at the weekend.

I am looking through the books that the Guild received from Muriel Pratt. There were quite a few magazines that I am passing to Joan.

Does anyone know the whereabouts of the Smocking pleater machine, it is probably in the cupboard but I have no idea what it looks like!!

No new magazines to report so far.

Keep on stitching

Sandra

WAW Committee

A big thank-you to everyone who made a contribution to What a Weekend. Thank-you for all the food that was provided, the visitors looked after and all the myriad of things that NEG members did to make the weekend such a success. I will have a report ready for the November guild meeting.

Thank-you again

Jane, Sue, and Nicoline

Suter Gallery - Jay Hutchinson: the archaeology of the discarded, forgotten and thrown away

Sep 21, 2019 – Dec 1, 2019

The Suter Gallery is staging an exhibition of the embroideries of Jay Hutchinson, a Dunedin Embroiderer. Jay embroiderers what he sees on his way to work so the pieces have a very urban feel to them.

Link to a previous exhibition Jay hutchinson exhibition from Karen.

Workshops

Margaret Lee class - if you are not attending the next Guild meeting and would like to register for this, please phone or email me. The clipboard will again be at the next meeting.

Decorations for the Cathedral Christmas Tree should be handed to Christine by the November meeting please.

The Suter Exhibition - clipboard was at last meeting and will be at the next one. We suggest you get together with friends either from the list or among yourselves but please let me know of your plans so we don't have too many attending at any time.

Cathedral Christmas Tree Decorations

The Scandinavian design from last year's Christmas Decorations Day is our Cathedral Christmas Tree decoration this year. This can be worked red on white or white on red, and you can use 28 count fabric over two threads instead of the 14 count Aida. Stitch your initials or place some identifying mark on the felt back for easy identification for returning early next year.

Payment for Marahau ($40 or $10 for the day) needs to be paid by next Embroidery guild meeting. This can be done by direct debit to the guild or by bringing an envelope with money, with name and reason on it to our next meeting. Please indicate on the clip board that you have paid.

A newsletter will be sent after the meeting when all is finalised. I'm getting excited as time marches on and we get closer to enjoying time together at this gorgeous venue.
